Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.

FIVE-CENT BREAD NOT TO GO HERE

Retail Grocers Plan Fight to Prevent Raise in Price of Loaf, as Use of Cent Piece Would Change Customs

Size of Loaves May Be Fixed by Law, Officer of Retail Association Declares; Odd Cost Will Prove Inconvenient

Five and ten cent bread may be sold in Oakland when the six and twelve cent prices come into effect Monday, despite the orders of the principal master bakers, raising the price to retailers.

In an effort to obtain bread for sale at five and ten cents, a canvas of smaller bakers in Oakland, who are not affected by the proposed increase, will be considered at a meeting of the Alameda County Retail Grocers' Association this evening.

H. H. Sack, vice-president of the association, in discussing the bread increase, said:

I don't believe this increase in the price will last; it is too inconvenient and benefits no one. I am certain that an effort will be made to have the law prohibiting the size of the loaves altered, which will enable a twenty-ounce loaf to be made and sold for ten cents instead of a twenty-four-ounce loaf for twelve cents.

Nobody loves the penny and the retail grocers are bent on killing it, so far as using it in trade is concerned. That is one of our main reasons for opposing the increase in the price of bread. There are few, if any, retail grocers who handle pennies at present, and our cash machines do not register pennies. One way of getting out of the use of cent pieces in buying bread, I think will find favor with many, is to make a loaf between the sizes of the five and ten cent loaves and sell it at two for fifteen cents. A purchaser could on this basis buy a single loaf one day and be given a ticket by the grocer which would make possible the purchase of the second loaf any other day with the ticket.

There will be a big mixup in the retail grocery trade if this penny comes into use in trade. The use of the penny, for instance, will mean that the public will want articles we can sell at two for twenty-five cents and one for fifteen, at one for thirteen cents, which would cut out all our profit. The retail grocers are up in arms against the little coin and there will be such a big fight that the six and twelve cent bread prices will not remain long in operation.

Halloween Is Quiet; "Ghosts" All Behave

Halloween, which is much dreaded in police circles, passed quietly and without serious prank last night, as a result of extra precautions taken by the patrolmen to warn hoodlums and others to restrain their activities.

"Ghosts" that flitted from point to point, kept the fire department busy a good portion of the evening answering false alarms, which were evidently turned in by boys. The police responded to three of the calls only to find that the miscreants had left the vicinity after pulling the hook that caused the department a useless run.

William Myers, 60 Vernon street, contributed the only Halloween accident during the evening. While returning from a Halloween party, he lost control of an automobile which he was driving at Clifton and Churemont avenues and crashed into a palm tree in front of the residence of W. A. Fryal, 5115 Churemont avenue. The machine was wrecked, but Myers was uninjured.

The luncheon at 12:30 o'clock will be preceded by an informal reception, when members of the society and friends will have an opportunity of meeting the missionaries.

A rally will be held at 2 o'clock, at which Bishop Welsh and other of the outgoing missionaries will make addresses. Reservations for the luncheon should be made by November 8.

May Ship Poisons to Physicians, Is Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Congressmen will be asked to pass a law to permit medicines composed in part or wholly of poison or poisons and anesthetic agents to be transmitted in the mails from manufacturers or dealers to licensed physicians, surgeons, pharmacists, dentists and veterinarians when inclosed in packages in conformity with the postal regulations.

In announcing this today, Postmaster General Burleson said that the action was in response to a wide demand of physicians and others to have the benefit of the postal route in obtaining articles under the present law without developing means by which habitual drug users may get their drugs.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1916.

FOR CITY'S FUTURE DEVELOPMENT.

Oakland voters are called upon to express, at the election next Tuesday, their judgment upon only one local proposition. This is the last proposition on the ballot and is for the adoption or rejection of an amendment to the city charter which will pave the way for a readjustment of the franchises of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways.

But while this is the ultimate object of the proposed amendment of the city charter, adoption of the amendment at the election November 7th will in no wise include any feature of legislation directly related to the street railway company. The amendment is proposed merely as an enabling act to empower the city council to negotiate a resettlement agreement with the railways concerning their franchises. This agreement when drafted must be approved by the State legislature and subsequently submitted in detailed form to the voters of this city for their final approval. Therefore, no rights or interests of the city are in any jeopardy whatsoever through the adoption of the proposed charter amendment. The TRIBUNE believes that the amendment should pass, so that the discussion of the street railway situation may proceed to essentials and an opportunity be afforded for correcting the present unhappy situation.

That some effective remedial action must shortly be taken is obvious. Street-car facilities are not keeping abreast of the growth of the residential sections of the city, nor are the accommodations on existing lines what they should be. In response to the demands of the people for improvement in service, the street-car company claims that it cannot raise capital to finance extensions and new equipment on account of the unsettled and indefinite conditions of its franchises. Its rights to operate existing lines are covered in eighty different franchise grants of varying conditions and different terms of years. Some of them expire within a comparatively short time. Certainly they do not as a whole offer an attractive feature for new investments.

The proposal to exchange all these separate franchises for one indeterminate resettlement franchise was advanced by a citizens' committee selected from different civic organizations to make a survey of the street railway situation.

This committee's plan as outlined in the proposed charter amendment appears to have carefully safeguarded the public's interests in every detail. Briefly the plan is:

To cancel all present franchises and negotiate a new resettlement franchise with uniform provisions for the operation of all the street railway company's properties;

To create a board of control of the company's administration in which the city shall have fifty percent representation;

To provide that the city shall retain a perpetual option to purchase the street railway system outright, upon six months' notice, at a valuation fixed by the State railroad commission and to include only those properties directly and specifically related to and necessary in the operation of a street car service. Also, in the event the present company fails in giving the highest efficiency in service, the city will have the right to sell the properties to a third party, if it is not ready to purchase the system itself, and in such sale to retain the right of purchase at any future date.

To provide that fifty-five percent of the net profits of the system under private, or joint private and municipal operation, shall be paid to the city.

These provisions, which are contained in the proposed charter amendment, guarantee the city a square deal and, through the board of control, give the city an instrument by which it can fully protect its interests.

Similar franchises have been introduced successfully in Kansas City, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Cleveland.

Last, but of highest importance, such a readjustment of the relation between the street car company and the public will insure greatly improved street car service in extensions and equipment, maintained at highest possible efficiency.

In considering this important proposition the voter should bear in mind that he is not voting on any contract or concessions, but solely upon an act enabling the city council to negotiate and draft a proposed resettlement agreement. This draft agreement will be submitted to the people for their final approval. The proposed amendment on the ballot next Tuesday is not exclusive in its application. It is intended to apply to any and all street, suburban and interurban railroads, and if a new general franchise is ultimately granted to the holders of the present old franchises it will not give them exclusive right to use the city's streets for street railway purposes.

In the interest of the future development of Oakland, The TRIBUNE feels justified in recommending to the voters to vote "Yes" on the last proposition on the ballot.

OBJECTIONS TO NO-PARTY LAW.

Professors of the political science and economic departments of the University of California are opposed to the non-partisan registration act which is on the November ballot as a referendum proposition, for academic reasons. Statements of these are to be found in the Civic Bulletin of the City Club of Berkeley. They were formulated in accordance with the instructions of the club to a committee to submit recommendations on the seven State measures to be voted on.

Dr. David P. Barrows, dean of the faculties and professor of political science, says:

"My objection to this law is its extreme length and confusion of detail. It contains over 36,000 words, yet is a measure which should be comprehensible to every voter. The approaching session of the legislature offers an opportunity to try again at providing a registration law of such compactness that it can be read and comprehended."

Professor Carl C. Plehn, head of the economics department, objects to the proposed law because:

"Declaration of party at the polls means but one thing, and that is hostile colonization."

Professor J. R. Douglas, instructor in political science, goes more into detail, and says in part:

"This proposed law would make possible the determination of the nomination of candidates of one party by the voters of another. Suppose the leaders of party A realized that their candidate X in any given election district stood very little chance of success at the general election unless he was opposed by Y, the weakest of the candidates of party B seeking nomination at the primary. Nothing would prevent these leaders from organizing a sufficient number of their followers to declare themselves in affiliation with party B, vote for Y and secure his nomination as the candidate of that party and then defeat him easily by voting for X, really their candidate, at the general election."

"The direct primary is in theory a series of primaries of the existing parties, held, however, on the same day at the same polls under the supervision of the State. As long as we operate under the present party primary system, no voter should participate in the primary of one of the parties held in this manner unless he is certain of his partisanship long enough in advance to declare it at the time of registration. If, for some extraordinary reason, he should desire to change his affiliation, it is sufficient, as under the existing law, to provide that he may do so by appearing at the county clerk's office."

The academicians recommended a negative vote on proposition 4. Vote "No" on No. 4, which is on the ballot under the heading "Direct Primary Law."

A national campaign against sneezers is proposed by the president of the Hay Fever Prevention Association. "Sneezers" are those unfortunate, and at the time of their affliction not wholly delightful, persons who are suffering from the fever. The campaign is not against the persons, but against weeds. It has been demonstrated that hay fever is an affliction caused by the inhalation of the pollen of what are commonly known as rag weeds. The campaign is for the elimination of the whole family of rag weeds, by education, moral suasion, agitation and ordinance. Hay fever is such an undesirable visitation that if it can be eliminated by a crusade against weeds, the apex of which is an ordinance duly made and provided, the legislative bodies of the land should get busy at once.

The New York Mail, in considering the question, "What would Hughes have done?" concludes that, for one thing he would not have spent $100,000,000 in not getting Villa, and then turned from the "pursuit" to hold the New London conference as to a $200,000,000 loan while Villa jubilantly raids Chihuahua. What a person would not do is, as a general thing, just as interesting and germane as what he would do.

Having advanced the claim that to criticize President Wilson for his mistakes and ineptitude in the administration of the national government is equivalent to treason, the Democratic campaign leaders have announced an additional reason why the American people should vote for their candidate: Mrs. Wilson has started her spring flower-planting at the White House.

NOTES and COMMENT

Ambassador Gerard, having got through with the dentist, is about to return to the lesser troubles of the embassy at Berlin.

The next baseball season will not open for some time, and there are some Oakland fans who are willing to "hole up" and forget it in the meantime.

Dr. Aked is now enjoying himself in telling about the famous peace mission. It has never been disclosed whether it was the doctor, but something disillusioned Ford.

Paper shoes for women are foreshadowed because kid is getting scarce, and the fashionable shoe requires lots of material. The war is responsible for many innovations.

Insinuation from the Hanford Sentinel: "Up in Richmond only plain clothes are to be allowed at a high school dance. This means that the girls will actually have to dress."

Principal Miller of the Cogswell Tech says that ducking improves the school spirit. Which is a new angle to education needing plans and specifications for a proper appreciation.

Theatrical news from the Marysville Appeal: "Uncle Tom's Cabin was here yesterday afternoon. The hounds were good and so was the ice, but their support was mighty poor."

It looks as though a technical denial as to the Lusitania postscript is being relied on, with the expectation that vociferousness will carry conviction where definiteness is lacking.

"This conundrum is propounded by that infant terrible, the Redding Searchlight: 'According to the dictionary a policy is defined as a plan of action.' How, then, can the President talk about his 'foreign policy'?"

The San Francisco Supervisors say that story impugning their rectitude isn't true, and call upon the Grand Jury to prove that it isn't true. Virtue may be its own reward hereafter, but sometimes it has hard work to keep along here.

Stealing a newspaper may be a slight theft, but subscribers who have suffered find it very difficult to feel bad for the thief who is caught in the act and visited with dire penalties. Six months for a 5-cent offense seems severe, but if a newspaper is justified in all, it finds justification here.

The Marysville Appeal details editorial life up there: "One delightful feature about editing a morning newspaper is that the editor is in bed when the irate subscribers come around to look him. The business manager has to be the shock absorber."

Stockton Mail: "A Berkeley professor says, 'Spooning is a waste of time.' Well, so are swinging in a hammock on a June day, eating chocolate creams and cream cakes, smoking cigars, going to the movies and the ball games, watching a sunset, slipping a sherbet in August, and a lot of other nice things."

Hunch from the Gold Hill News: "Thanksgiving will soon be here, and, friends, do you ever think of the editor who has tried his best to give you a little home paper? Do you think enough of his efforts to come through with the price of a year's subscription and help the good work along? It's mainly a labor of love."

Disquisition on umbrella handles from the Stockton Mail: "Luther Burbank is said to be giving his attention to developing a cane tree that will grow branches with a bow at one end for crooked umbrella handles. Men were always more partial to crooked umbrella handles than women. The Los Angeles Times explains that this predilection dates back to the times of luxurious free lunches when a man could hang his umbrella over his arm and eat with both hands."

Pellucid political paragraph from the Colusa Sun: "If you want to get up a surprise, the successful way is to keep it secret until the last minute. But this age is a little progressive and the women of the Woman's Party are going to surprise the 4,000,000 of women of the states which have the suffrage by telephoning to them all simultaneously to defeat 'Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic party.' This is a good job of a surprise, for all know it except those women in the enfranchised states who are to receive this by telephone on the eve of election."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Small white beans were sold yesterday on the river bank in Sutter county for about a pound. This is the highest price yet for this season. The price has been rising steadily since the harvest began, and many growers are of the opinion that it will not stop until 10 cents a pound is reached. Planks were selling yesterday for 6 cents a pound, which is a high figure.—Sacramento News.

A pumpkin raised by James Phelps is on exhibition in the window of the Fabian-Grunauer company. This pumpkin is rather small for its size, but it weighs 103 pounds. It is estimated that there is enough material in this one pumpkin to make pies enough to give twenty men indigestion for a month.—Tracy Press.

It is no trick to shoot ducks in the rice fields of Butte and Colusa counties, but between "keep off" signs and menacing Hindus and Japanese and mud and foot and a half deep, it is some trick to retrieve them.—Chico Enterprise.

It will be no fault of the bean farmers of the Salinas valley if Boston does not have her baked beans when the war is over. The "pork and beans" for every night of the week, the searchlights of thrashing crews can be seen. The thrashing crews are not wasting a minute. One crew works all day and another finished at night. By means of a strong overhead light and all the wagons carrying lanterns, good progress is made. The Salinas valley has the most wonderful bean crop in its history.—Roller Bee Lance.

BAKER-WILSON PATRIOTISM — "THE SAME SORT OF MEN"

"They (Washington's Soldiers) Were Just as Bad Characters as the Mexicans."—Secretary Baker.

—MAY IN THE CLEVELAND LEADER.

MR. WILSON AS PRESIDENT

(The following is an editorial printed in the Chicago Daily News of October 25. The Daily News formerly was a supporter of the Wilson administration. Its publisher, Victor F. Lawson, is one of the ablest and most influential editors in the United States.)

Mr. Wilson is a scholarly egoist who measures all things by personal standards which are subject to no modifications other than those resulting from his confirmed policy of opportunism. "Do the easiest thing and make a virtue of it," might be the accepted motto of this eminently plausible President. Having no real advisers and no cabinet except in name—this was made clear by the resignation of Secretary Garrison—he has felt free to follow his own inclinations at all times. His inclinations have been right in many instances, and he has accomplished much that should prove of lasting value to the nation. Blessed with a safe party majority in each house of congress throughout the whole period of his administration, and having not an atom of that desirable passion for wise economy which characterized another Democratic President, Grover Cleveland, he has found ways of keeping under his hand a ready instrument for the enactment of such measures as he chose to approve and of slaying measures that were not to his liking. In short, to an extraordinary degree, he has had his way in legislative affairs.

Material success rewards his administration in large part because the great war which has deluged Europe with blood has deluged the United States with prosperity. The Daily News has approved those actions of the President's that tended to uphold against the ruthlessness of war the rights of neutrals and other non-combatants, though many voices now raised for Mr. Wilson were raised not so long ago in shrieks of alarm, voices that prophesied red ruin as a sure result of the President's display of firmness. In the opinion of the Daily News the President, in honor and safety, could not have done less than he did in dealing with the submarine and other questions, whereas considerations of honor and safety might well have caused him to do more than he did. Because of unprecedented conditions in the foreign field the President has accomplished no remarkable feat in keeping the nation out of war, though the fact that we are not now at war is the chief boast of his supporters. Yet for more than two years there has been nobody anywhere who could have been persuaded to go to war with us, nearly all the world's fighting men being locked in a deadly struggle amid the trenches of Europe. The administration's Mexican policy, though it has given us two little inglorious wars, interminable muddle and serious loss of prestige, has reflected the President's wise determination not to yield an inch to the arrogant demands of the annexationists. It has shed upon the nation no luster save that resulting from the rejection of the elemental sin of blind covetousness.

It was in his method of dealing with the strike threat of the railroad brotherhoods that President Wilson most clearly disclosed his policy of government. That perilous policy of following the line of least resistance is shown here in its perfection. Here also is shown the destructiveness of the form of statesmanship which deals with a crisis by postponing the day of settlement and at the same time, by weakening established safeguards, augmenting the elements of danger contained in it. Confronted by the fact that leaders of certain railroad employees had refused to arbitrate the question of higher wages and had rejected the proffered help of the federal board of mediation and conciliation, President Wilson chose to assume that the question involved was that of the establishment of the eight-hour day, though the eight-hour day in reality had nothing to do with it. He chose to assume also, without making any effort to prevent that threatened outcome, that a nationwide strike going up railroad transportation from coast to coast would result speedily unless he secured by law within a few hours a settlement to the liking of the men who had engineered the strike order. Instead of saying to those men, "This nation will not be coerced into passing a law increasing your wages without investigation," he hastened to reward them for their refusal to arbitrate and then setting their scanty time limit of hours in which Congress might establish by law their minimum demand of a 25 per cent increase in wages, notoriously misbranded by the President the eight-hour day. The nation's chief executive, reflecting all the questions of right and wrong and yielded to a barefaced holdup in derogation of justice and orderly government. To give his action a shadowy excuse, he demanded one thing while calling it another thing. A stampeded Congress carried out his orders in 31g time.

Here was a shameless, a destructive surrender to a threat of force made with a deliberate purpose by an organized minority. On the part of the President it was at once a display of timidity and craft. It established a precedent both dangerous and humiliating. Throughout the amazing transaction the larger interests of the great unorganized American public counted for nothing. The facts, known and unknown, were ignored. The President employed an easy method of projecting a present difficulty into the future, and of gaining profitable friendships for himself while sowing a crop of dragon's teeth for his country, whose interests he was set to guard. This appalling display of unscrupulousness illuminates like a searchlight the character and the thought processes of the chief magistrate of the nation. The American people should take warning from the painful exposure.

In the opinion of the Daily News the safety of the nation and the integrity of its institutions cannot wisely be intrusted to President Wilson for another term.

Lost Property.
"Look here, young rascal! Did you break that window?"
"No, sir. Honest I didn't."
"Do you know who did break it?"
"No, sir. I don't know anything about it at all."
"Well, get away from here. I don't want you kids hanging around in front of my house."
"All right, mister. Will you please give me my ball before I go?"
"Give you your ball? Where is it?"
"I think it's in your front parlor."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Discovered.
"Who gave the bride away?" asked Mrs. Jones of her daughter, who had just returned from the wedding.
"Her little brother," replied the daughter, "he stood up in the middle of the ceremony and yelled, 'Hurrah, Blanche, you've got him at last!'"—New York Times.

Natural Phenomenon.
"This is the smallest fifty pounds of ice I ever saw," said the kitchen lady.
"Permit me to inform you, madam," said the high-brow seaman, "that the apparent smallness is due to the intense cold to which we subject our ice in the process of manufacture, thereby producing the closest contraction."—Boston Transcript.

Lottie—He wore my photograph over his heart, and it stopped the bullet.
Tottie—I'm not surprised, darling; it would stop a clock.—Sketch.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Rev. C. M. Hill, pastor of the Tenth Avenue Baptist church, celebrated his third anniversary at the church today.

Mrs. Henry Haven is visiting Captain and Mrs. C. E. Haven of Santa Rosa.

Miss Gertrude Burnham is at Placerville, visiting her brother, George Burnham, a nominee for the Assembly.

"If, as is said, the pulpit is no place for politics, so much the worse for politics," said Rev. Coyle in a powerful sermon on citizenship today in the First Presbyterian church.

NEW VERSION.

There is a boarding house
Not far away
Where they have ham and eggs
Three times a day.
O, how the boarders shout
When they bring the jewels out,
How things have turned about
Three times a day!

There's not a room to let,
Try you may;
It's an exclusive set,
Three times a day.
O, how the table rings
When they serve these tempting things,
Fit now for queens and kings,
Three times a day!

How it is ever done
No one can say;
Think what the bill must run
Three times a day!
Eggs sold at forty cents,
All meat bills are immense,
My, ain't it opulence,
Three times a day!

Evidently this was the reason the impelled them to promoters of water sports. A high rate it is easy to see their programs. A eighteen years ago, J. Leary was a swimmer, and the swan, "Leary was a marvel for stroke because one of his like our crawl covered the 100 yards in one minute and 15 seconds on this coast. When Is Rule Not a Rule, Asks Washington

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 1. — The University of Washington's three famous football stars — Jim Miller, Earl Shiel and Ray Hunt, who were all named to the All-American team after Washington's football this year — have asked the Pacific Coast conference eligibility rules committee to consider their case and go into training camp suits yesterday and leave Saturday at Eugene. This action was taken by the three players and Dr. Brown and Dean W. H. Jones of the University of Washington, who are opposing the ruling. The committee is now considering the application of the five-year rule. The telegram said:

Rule not retroactive. Operates from 1934-35. Shiel, Hunt and Miller. All three eligible. New rule is necessary at next meeting of conference. Regret conditions.

SCRAPS

CINCINNATI, Nov. 1.—Charley Whitehead began training here for his six-day Philadelphia, November 11, fight with Tommy Nelson at the Philadelphia Sportsman. That indicates the rankest professionalism and promotes the very life of the conference.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 1.—Managers of Joe Evers and Charley Whitehead are trying to get together on a match at Cincinnati on the 11th. Promoters are offering a good purse.

Accused of Killing Ducks After Sunset
WOODLAND, Nov. 1.—Deputy State Game Warden R. L. Slinker has sworn to a complaint against H. A. Robinson, prominent citizen of Davis, in which the latter is accused of killing wild ducks in Willow Slough after sundown. Slinker says Robinson has been shooting ducks as late as 10 o'clock at night.

RIDE RENEWS SCHOOL FIGHT

Hayward Board Agitated Over Charges That Trustee Offered Affront.

ing rumormongers and keep it going until the next school election.
Reasons why the trustees' ira has been roused, he says, are these:
Mrs. S. R. Rosenberg, a member of the school board, as an exhibition of her antagonistic feeling towards him and as a "slap," invited the other members of the board for a drive in her automobile, leaving him out in the cold.
Principal E. N. Mabrey discontinued a course of university extension lectures at the grammar school without consulting the school board.
Trustee Russell explained his stand. He said:
"You may be sure there will be trouble in school board affairs until matters are readjusted, which they won't be until the next school board election. Things would simply go to the dogs unless someone criticized and that freely the actions of the school board. Criticism, outside the board meetings as well as in, is the only way I, as the minority, can make myself heard and exert influence."
GOT COLD SHOULDER.
In giving me the cold shoulder in inviting Trustee Lemos and Principal Mabrey in her automobile and ignoring me, Mrs. Rosenberg showed how antagonistic her section of the board is to me.
As far as Mabrey's discontinuing the extension lectures without inviting the opinion of the board members, that in my opinion was entirely wrong. I said in a recent statement that I would advocate no improvements at the grammar school until the "unloading" of Principal Mabrey. We should get rid of him.
Here is Mrs. Rosenberg's reply to Trustee Russell:
"I and other members of the board take offense at Trustee Russell's statement regarding the 'unloading' of Principal Mabrey. We have always found him efficient.
Whether the antagonism between the school board members, which has existed since the disagreements over the recent school bond election and other differences, will again threaten the board with disruption, is a question agitating the school district."

BOPP CASE DELAY PLEA IS DENIED

Only to Go Over Until December, Is Decided in Federal Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—The efforts of Consul General Franz Bopp and the other officials of the German Consulate to bring about a continuance of the cases against them for violating the neutrality laws until the first of the year were frustrated this morning at a conference between their counsel, U. S. Attorney John W. Preston and Federal Judge Maurice T. Doelling. The trials of Bopp, Baron E. H. Von Schack, Lieutenant George Wilhelm Von Brincken, Charles Crowley and Mrs. Margaret Cornell had been set down for November 15. The fact that a case is being tried which will not be concluded by that day, made a continuance necessary. Finally it was agreed that the trials would begin on December 4. At the conclusion of the conference, Preston said:
"The defense wanted to continue the cases until the first of the year, but we would not consent to this. We finally decided on December 4. I had intended asking for a week's continuance beyond November 15 but later agreed to the date mentioned."
Attorneys Matt I. Sullivan, Theodore Roche and George McGowan, attorneys for the defendants, took part in the conference. The accused officials are specifically charged with setting on foot a military expedition against Canada and attempts to blow up munitions plants. The district attorney's motion to consolidate these indictments was vigorously opposed by the defense and has not yet been decided by the court.

'Bet You Won't Jump,' They Said; So He Did

W. J. Neindorf of Exposition boulevard got a wetting and $100 yesterday evening and he got a good laugh at the expense of William Hendry during a little dinner party at a Santa Monica cafe.
Neindorf, Hendry and another friend, with three young women, were dining at the beach, when the conversation turned to keeping aloft in the ocean when fully dressed. Neindorf said it wasn't so difficult to stay afloat quite a while and Hendry differed with him.
"Bet you $100 you wouldn't jump off the end of this pier with your clothes on," Hendry challenged.
"I'll just take that," said Neindorf, who had Paul W. Scheney, manager of the cafe, cash a check for him. The money was posted and the party, followed by others, went to the end of the pier.
"Goodby," shouted Neindorf, vaulting over the rail. He wore all his clothes except his hat.
Ten minutes later he reached shore, while his anxious friends watched and cheered.
It was not until the money was paid to the winner that Hendry learned that Neindorf was a former lifeguard and professional swimmer.

Woman Candidate Is Withdrawn From Field

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Hattie K. Howard, only woman candidate for Congress in Colorado, has withdrawn from the Progressive ticket. Mrs. Howard was a candidate from the First Congressional district. A number of other Progressive candidates also have withdrawn.
The liberal party, sponsors for the so-called "beer amendment," at the eleventh hour filed a ticket containing the names of four candidates, as follows:
For governor, Louis E. Leander; lieutenant-governor, Charles Williams; auditor, Henry C. Ehemann; treasurer, C. B. Ayres.
William H. Steele has an entire ticket, the Socialist-Labor, upon which to run for Congress in the Third district.
A Splendid Cough Medicine.
"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a number of times during the past two or three years for colds, coughs and hoarseness, and am pleased to say it has always given me prompt relief. I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a splendid medicine and have recommended it to many of my friends, who have used it and likewise praise it highly," writes Mrs. W. F. Frantz, Colden, N. Y. Fascinating and New Wonder of Music The DUO ART

TO hear in one's own home the music of the pianoforte, played by the greatest pianists of the day, is a privilege that few have ever enjoyed. But this wonderful privilege may now be yours—through the Duo-Art Pianola. This remarkable new instrument, actuated by the Duo-Art music rolls, which are accurate records of the great artists' playing, reproduces the interpretations by these famous musicians so perfectly that it's like hearing them play in person.

And, too, you may play the Duo-Art yourself when you desire. It is the most perfect model of the Pianola—plays any standard, 88-note music roll. No pedaling—it is operated by electricity.

It is also a perfect pianoforte of the conventional type, a Steinway, Weber or Stroud.

Duo-Art Pianolas range in price from $775 up. Convenient terms of payment may be arranged and other pianos or player-pianos accepted in part exchange.
